PROFILE

Raised in the UK entertainment industry and holding an MSc. Honours in Engineering from Sussex University, Bryan has spent 37 years in Hollywood as a Directors Guild of America member — working across feature films, TV, and over 700 commercials.

His engineering background gives him a unique edge in the robotic and motion control world — from the first Milo job in Hollywood through to Volumetric capture, Unreal Engine, and Virtual LED stages. He has been a consultant building Sisu Cinema Robotics from concept to an industry leader for 5 plus years.

Bryan specializes in action, 2nd unit directing, and every type of car shoot imaginable — and has worked across Iceland, New Zealand, Australia, Spain, Mexico, Peru, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, South Africa, Germany, France, the UK, Croatia, CZ Rep, Canada, Indonesia, Fiji, China, Hong Kong, and many more countries. A private pilot, certified scuba diver, and active sportsman — he's equally at home on location anywhere in the world.
